

A New Lease on Life from Psoriatic Arthritis

Jeff Westrom is celebrating the 25th anniversary of his advertising company, J.W. Morton & Associates this particular month... and he's doing it with a whole new lease on life.

- He describes himself as a sculptor at heart, a woodworker in the home, and someone who would prefer to be on his feet than sitting at a computer.
- He says the further a project gets from 8 1/2 x 11, the happier he is.
- But just over a year ago, sitting at a computer was about all Jeff could do without feeling the pain.
- He was diagnosed with psoriatic arthritis, a condition that many times comes hand in hand with psoriasis.
- He had incredible pain in the feet, angles, wrists and hands joints.
- He says on a scale of 1 to be able to 10 (10 being the worst) his pain was consistently at a 7 or 8 everyday with no settlement.
- He couldn't open a can of pickles by himself.
- It hurt simply to get up and let the dog out.
- He was miserable.

Like many Flexcin customers, Jeff wanted to find an all-natural solution for his pain before trying prescription drugs. He didn't want to deal with the side effects that can come hand-in-hand with a lot of pharmaceuticals. He came across Flexcin with CM8 on the internet as he read blog after blog that compared it with other arthritis and joint pain supplements on the market. Jeff is a guy who does his research. After a great deal of reading up on Flexcin as well as the main components like CM8 and glucosamine, he decided to give it a shot. Jeff says he will probably never forget the day he started taking Flexcin, a day many people will remember what they were doing when they heard the news...the day Michael Jackson passed away, June 25th of this year.

Within Weeks Jeff's Pain Started to Disappear

He says he first noticed a difference in his feet and angles, and soon the pain began to abate in his hands and wrists also. His initial goal was to eliminate the four Ibuprofen he was taking each day from his eating habits. Today he's down to only one and says his discomfort level has dropped to a 1 out of 10! Before Flexcin he was unable to do some of the things he enjoys most such as home remodeling and finishing work. Today, he's back to enjoying his remodeling projects around the house and using his hands to accomplish elaborate woodworking projects.

- Jeff tells us that the supplements have not only improved his physical wellbeing but his mental wellbeing as well.
- Emotionally he or she is much happier and enjoying life again now that it doesn't hurt to walk or use his hands.
